HPS Network Family Conference

Hermansky-Pudlak Syndrome (HPS) is a rare, genetic, multi-system disorder characterized by albinism, visual impairment, and a platelet dysfunction that results in prolonged bleeding. Many people with HPS will develop other complications including inflammatory bowel disease, kidney disease, and the fatal lung disease: pulmonary fibrosis. This all requires a lot of care, management, and monitoring. It is crucial for patients to learn, understand and be able to advocate for their unique care. This event is an opportunity to hear directly from the leading medical experts working to improve HPS standards of care and advance research to find a cure.

In addition to educational sessions, breakout groups and presentations, the 3-day HPS Conference also provides a fun, safe, supervised "Kids Kamp", a full day of collaboration amongst the medical professionals in "Meeting of the Minds", a unique opportunity for members to participate in research in an on-site clinic called "We're Drawn Together" and a special evening of celebration at the Conference Dinner Party.

The family conference has many tailored services to accommodate the needs of the attendees including translation services for Spanish speaking members, and visual devices, technology, and guides to assist our visually impaired members.

This conference could not happen without the generous support of sponsors like you.

What some members have said about the HPS Conference...

"It is the only chance I get to speak to everyone in the HPS-space in one place. Researchers, other families, advocates, and professionals all come together with one topic at the front of everyone's mind and that is priceless."

"The HPS conference helped me learn how to advocate for my lung transplant" Heather

"Conference is where I feel completely at home. I know my children are safe, being loved on, and with friends who understand them. I am at home because I'm with people who literally have walked in my shoes. We have whole conversations in one look, one hug, one tear." Becky

"I had never met anyone with HPS before I attended and it warmed my heart to be surrounded by people with similar experiences to me, all learning and working together."

"Thank you for always going above and beyond the call of duty to create and host the yearly conference. It is a tour-de-force for HPS researchers and patients alike."

"I have been with the HPS Network for 20 years and the conference is the heart and soul of our community. Each year keeps getting better." Jo-Tina

"We're excited to attend conference and be with the people that truly "get" us. I can't wait to finally meet the people who have felt like family for the past 3 years!" Beth
